MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Throughout the year, Moody's Analytics has classified North Dakota's business climate as in recession. In its October 2016 Précis, Moody's states "North Dakota is beginning to see its recession in the rearview mirror." Private employment is increasing along with earnings for those with jobs in tight labor markets. However, non-wage income from energy and agriculture remains weak leaving overall personal income below levels from one year ago.

Oil prices are expected to rebound to around $50 per barrel by the middle of calendar year 2017 which may provide producers with an incentive to bring wells and jobs back online. Moody's notes that oil prices will most likely need to reach $60 per barrel before drilling will accelerate in earnest. Once oil prices begin to rise, North Dakota has a large inventory of unfinished wells that can be completed quickly. One of North Dakota's biggest shortfalls is that it has a less diverse economy to fall back on when oil is weak. Its second largest industry, agriculture, has seen its own struggles. Commodity prices have fallen and farm earnings are at their lowest levels since 1997. A strong US dollar has created a disadvantageous exchange rate with Canada resulting in reduced retail and wholesale trade earnings.

Moody's concludes North Dakota will exit its recession by the end of 2016 but recovery will be slow. North Dakota will underperform the nation for several years with any growth not anticipated to accelerate until the end of 2017. The state's metro areas will play a greater role in the outlook due to lower costs and tighter labor markets continuing to draw in displaced oil workers and investments in private services.

North Dakota REV-E-NEWS

VARIANCES

(Compared to July Revised Forecast)

October 2016 revenues totaled $143.5 million, which is $7.9 million, or 5.2 percent below forecast. Biennium-to-date revenues of $3.04 billion are $14.2 million, or 0.5 percent, lower than projected. When transfers from the tax relief fund are excluded, 2015-17 revenues to date are tracking 29.3 percent behind the same time period in the 2013-15 biennium. Significant monthly variances are as follows:

Sales tax collections of $75.9 million were $15.6 million, or 17.1 percent, less than anticipated for the month due in large part to low oil prices and reduced rig counts and low agriculture prices. Biennium-to-date revenues are 3.0 percent below forecast and 26.9 percent less than the same time period in the 2013-15 biennium.

Individual income tax collections totaling $43.4 million exceeded the monthly projection by $5.1 million, or 13.4 percent due to strong estimated payments. Biennium to date collections of $459.7 million are $8.7 million. or 1.9 percent, above the forecast. Tax rate reductions and sizeable reductions in taxable rovalty payments along with reduced employment in the oil fields resulted in collections that were 33.6 percent lower than the same time period in the 2013-15 biennium.

• Oil and gas taxes collections reached $200.0 million in January - the first tier of the biennial cap. The state share will be deposited in the tax relief fund until that fund reaches its cap of $300 million, after which the general fund will receive an additional $100.0 million. November 2016
